

5th Year Parent's Evening Consultation 2010

A consultation was undertaken to evaluate the new process for parent's evening. 26 responses received. One person did not tick a box although they did comment on the process. The other 25 were satisfied with the process and one said that it was much better.

Comments received in answer to the question 'How we could improve parent's evenings in our new school?'

- All went according to plan
- Good timing. No complaints to report
- Easy to get around, lovely school
- No – all went well
- Nothing – ran smoothly
- Could do with longer slots at this stage of school career, but appreciate this may be difficult. Also if a teacher is off sick is it possible to speak with someone else from the department or school.
- Where a room is being used for multiple teachers a location map to identify where in the room each teacher is located. Saves peering to see who is where and trying to read the names (I know I've been coming here for years but still forget what the teachers look like.
- 10 minutes appointments would help with timings
- * Teacher should call out name of next person to see as people are certainly sneaking in in front of parents who have been sitting waiting to see the same teacher i.e. running late and at least 4 parents waiting to see them.

One person asked how are you feeding back suggestions

*From the person who didn't answer regarding the arrangements.
